

Summer Camp Counselor (Seasonal)

Do you have a passion for working with children? Would you like to help us deliver a fun and rewarding summer camp experience to students ages 8-12 while they are actively learning about science, technology, engineering, art, and math (STEAM)? Then we'd love to talk to you about leading our day camps this summer!

This is a temporary summer position. Candidates must be available to work daily from 8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. Monday - Friday, for at least 6 of the 7 weeks of summer camp.

Camp Dates:

June 12-17, June 19-23, June 26-30, July 10-14, July 17-21, July 24-28, July 31-August 4.

Camp Counselors are responsible for providing safe, friendly supervision directly to all children in their care, and indirectly to all children in the camp at any one time. You will contribute to the overall mission of the Aerospace Museum of California by serving as an outgoing, active, and knowledgeable representative when guiding our summer camp children and communicating with their caregivers.

Skills & Talents:

- Experience working with children in informal learning or recreational environments
- Flexible, dynamic, and active in learning, while being patient, empathetic, and caring with children of various learning abilities
- Understanding of the role of play and inquiry in learning
- Good communication and teamwork skills
- Prompt, time-aware, and able to supervise and organize groups of up to 25 children with assistance

Duties & Responsibilities:

- Work independently and with a co-counselor to lead groups of up to 25 children in activities through a complete week of learning programs
- Follow any related COVID-19 Safety protocols, following State and County health guidelines
- Stimulating children's curiosity and questioning, problem-solving and creativity, and active participation of all knowledge levels
- Learn the objectives of assigned camps and follow daily program schedules
- Ability to adjust activities within program schedules to adapt to the immediate circumstances, e.g. weather, physical location, coordination with other camp staff
- Supervising and collaborating with volunteers who support the camp groups
